

Joint-route expected ratio across the 365-species panel

Point is the posterior expected exact-report ratio; interval columns are retained in the source table

